published by

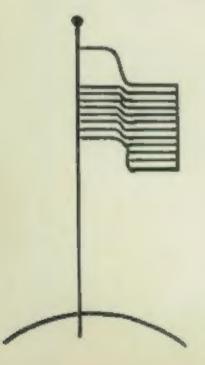

Ragsdale High School Jamestown, North Carolina

Foreword

The 1964 Echo Staff has endeavored to capture the highlights of Ragsdale High School and set them before you. As the end of another school year draws to a close, we look on with thankful hearts for our broadened scope of knowledge and our preparedness for whatever future lies ahead. With our theme, SOUNDS OF THE PRESENT, the annual staff has tried to give you a glimpse of our most cherished sounds that echo and re-echo throughout the halls of Ragsdale.

Sounds of the Present

...getting off the bus

...gathering in the halls...

...hearing the announcements thru...

.....assembly....

.....physical education.....

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y
Victory, Victory, That's our cry'
Are we in it? Wer, I guess
Shall we win it? Yes! Yes! Yes!

....sounds of cheerleaders.....

Sounds of the Glee Club permeate the back hall during third period.

Mr. Rainey strikes up the band.

.....sounds of music.....

The sounds heard in the practical arts room are those of saw, hammers - and of course, voices!

Lunch time offers a welcome relief from trying classes . . . That accounts for all the noise.

We, the class of 1964, consider it an honor to pay special tribute to two of our most devoted teachers. With their spontaneous enthusiasm and their genuine interest in young people, they have been an inspiration to the students of Ragsdale High School as they pursued their quest for knewledge. With patience and understanding these faculty members have guided not only the students in their classes but also all those with whom they have come in contact.

It is with great pride that the Senior Class dedicates the 1964 Echo to Mrs. Vivian Davis and Mr. Ralph Moran.

DEDICATION

With her warm and friendly smile and her keen sense of humor, Mrs. Davis has won the affection of all the students with whom she is associated. The help and encouragement she has given to her English students and to her Glee Club members have made each one more eager to excel in his work.

As a teacher and assistant principal,
Mr. Moran is always ready to lend a helping hand to the students at Ragsdale High School.

It makes no difference whether our problems are large or small, he willingly listens to them all.

Industrious seniors cramming for exams.

Graduation - the goal of the 158 seniors of the class of 1964 - brought to the minds of many students memories of four happy, active years at Ragsdale High School.

From the senior class came the majority of officers and leaders for all school clubs, athletic teams, and honorary societies. If seniors were to retrace their footsteps, they would re-live such activities as the excitement of having Echo pictures made, practicing for the senior play, and something which made the deepest impression of all-the Junior-Senior Prom.

Soon the long-awaited day will arrive. As the largest class ever to graduate from Ragsdale High School files down the aisles of the auditorium to the familiar strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," all seniors will know that one important era in their lives has ended. They will glance back at the past, realizing that they have added a strong chapter in the story of their Alma Mater. What counted was not how many hours they had spent, how hard they had worked, but what they had accomplished.

The result of twelve long years of hard work - that cherished high school diploma.

Highlighting the jumor year was the arrival of the long-awaited class rings and the planning and attending of our first Prom. Other new experiences included writing the first term paper and securing the title of "upperclassmen." To these jumors go the legacres of all the good times, hard work, and wonderful memories that accompany the title of "junior."

Now at the end of our third year of high school, we hopefully await the coming of fall when we will be Seniors . . .

At last the long-awaited day arrived. We got out class thas

Progressing farther along the path of education and of life are the sophomores. Now well-integrated into the sometimes happy-sometimes hectic-life of Ragsdale High, they are ready to go on to more advanced work, with a more mature viewpoint.

English drills, algebra, time trials, and dissection of cats will be remembered by the sophomores as a part of their busy year.

As it comes to a close, these sophomores feel that they have grown in character and that their year has been one in which they can cherish the memories of many new and different experiences.

SEATED Tommy Manages, president STANDING Judy McCray, vice president Scott Osmorie, treasurer; Annette Phillips, secretary.

The guidance office is a busy place as freshmen chart their courses for the future.

With the opening of the 1963-64 schoolyear, another group of freshmen entered the portals of Ragsdale High School. After mastering the problem of finding their way around the building, class members settled down to the year's work.

As the weeks and months passed, freshmen became members of clubs, musical organizations, and councils. Those who were athletically inclined went out for football, basketball, track, and golf. By the close of the year freshmen realized that they were an important part of Ragsdale High School.

Physical education is a very necessary part of every freshman's program.

THE ECHO STAFF

Mrs. Mary Lane Sponsor

Daily the sounds of busy staff members, hard at work, echo from the publications room. These staff members spend many long hours identifying pictures, selling ads, and writing copy in order to meet deadlines. Amid the flurry of school activities, this group strives diligently to record the spirit of our Alma Mater.

The efforts of these many individuals, along with those of our sponsor, Mrs. Mary Lane, are represented in the finished Echo, a collection of memories from the past for us to cherish in the years ahead.

THE HI-LIGHTS STAFF

Candy Blair Editor-in-Chief

Mrs. Annie Revels

The production of The HI-LIGHTS is a series of steps requiring the work of the entire staff. Club, class, news, features, society, and sports editors make the assignments and collect the articles. The news is turned in to be proof read and typed--then THE HI-LIGHTS goes to press.

Many long hours have been spent working towards making each issue better than the previous one. We feel that we have been amply rewarded for our efforts by being granted membership in the Southern Interscholastic Press Association.

Not only did they present new and unusual pregame and half-time shows at every football game, but they also took part in the High Point Christmas Parade and in Band Day activities at Wake Forest and Carolina.

When marching season was over, the band put away its marching music and brought out concert music in order to make preparations for spring concerts and the annual State Contest.

Mu Alpha Theta is an international mathematics organization for junior and senior high school students and freshmen and sophomore college students. International headquarters are located at the University of Oklahoma in Norman.

The math club at Ragsdale High School became affiliated in 1959 under the sponsorship of Mrs. Sarah Moss. Because of the high standards, the Mu Alpha Theta is a selective club having only twenty members presently on roll. Of these members, a majority plan a career requiring much math. The purpose of the club is to further the interest in mathematics and to present the newest ideas in its field to the club.

Ragsdale High is one of the four high schools in North Carolina that is fortunate enough to have this distinguished club. Different club members present the program which usually consists of speakers, mathematical puzzles, and debates. To be sure, there is never a dull moment if one is a member of the Mu Alpha Theta.

The Ragsdale Library Club is possibly the most active one in school as its members serve daily in the library. Each member is expected to devote at least two hours each week to such library activities as serving at the charging desk, checking library permits, assisting the librarian in the technical processing of new books, mending old ones, and helping with periodicals in the workroom. Other duties include helping with the bulletin board or the arrangement of attractive and timely displays both in the library and the corridor cabinets.

Eight assistants are working five days each week, assisting in special projects, and taking formal textbook instruction in library administration. This has been the first year this plan has been followed, these eight will receive a unit's credit.

One outstanding project for the year was sponsoring a two week book exhibit of several hundred newly published books during Book Week in November, also a Ballot of Books was held to allow each student at Rags lale the opportunity to vote on the ten books he would like added to the library from the display. Over two hundred books were added to our library through student participation. One annual event that is always enjoyed is the trip to a college library to learn just how it functions.

The Tigers chalked up an 8-2 record which was good enough for second place in the Guilford County Conference. In the homecoming game between Ragsdale and Ledford, the Tigers dedicated the newly completed Kenneth T. Miller Memorial Stadium by defeating Ledford 25-0. In the championship game for the Guilford County title, the Tigers were set back by Allen Jay's Jaybirds by a 14-7 score, giving Allen Jay the title.

The outlook appears to be very bright for the golf team this spring. There will be six returning lettermen, plus several promising newcomers, who will be out to defend the conference championship.

The team will participate again this year in the Guilford County Golf Conference. Ragsdale will play ten conference matches during the regular season. Then, the top four men will represent the team in the State High School Tournament at Chapel Hill on May 11 and 12. This will be followed by the county tournament at Green Valley on May 18 and 19.

Ragsdale's boys' basketball team, having acquired able assistance from seven juniors and six sophomores, has enjoyed a somewhat successful season. The "Flying Tigers", coached by Mr. Hunt, have worked hard this year and improved steadily as the season has progressed. Says Coach Hunt, "We really don't have a 'first five'. We have eight or ten boys with just about equal ability who have played and will play a lot of ball for us this year." The boys on the team would like to thank the students for the tremendous support they have given us and for helping us to a successful season.

Captain Mark Bullock, Coach D. Hant, Captain Gary Jones.

GIRLS VARSITY BASKETBALL_

FIRST ROW-Kneeling-Phyllis Tucker, Sheila Winslow, Car | Walker, Sar fra Rabaar (antis Black, Co., andar Ruch) Jowers, Co-captain. STANDING-Judy Jones, Judy McCray, Janet Lanier, Ronda Misenhower, Nancy Waller, Becky Hill. Donnie Sameuls, Carol Kimery, Pam Inman.

The Ragsdale girls' basketball team has come a long way since practice began on October 16. Our team has been influenced by Mrs. Grantham, our coach, who has emphasized good sportsmanship and teamwork throughout the season.

By its 7-8 record it is evident that the team has shown its willingness to work and has greatly improved since the beginning of the season.

Our team's motto this year has been to play hard, clean ball, to be good sports on and off the basketball court, and to keep spirits high and fighting to the last minute of every game, whether winning by ten points or losing by ten points.

Coach Grantham and co-captains Jowers and Black plan their strategy.
